"...Capital Rep... the finest professional theatre group in our area..."

Dan DiNicola, Schenectady Gazette

Dear Friends,

We're excited! For five years our company has been working as the Lexington Conservatory Theatre (LCT), producing plays with invention and sheer style. And now, as Capital Repertory Company we're ready to meet the challenge of live theatre here in the Capital District.

Over 2,000 of you saw our rollicking production of The Tavern last March at the Egg—and you already know what's in store for you when Capital Rep opens its doors. We hope you—and thousands of new friends—will join us this winter as we present the most dazzling, unforgettable and professional theatre the Capital District has ever seen.

We're excited about our future here and believe Capital Rep will emerge as one of the nation's top theatres.

So, please join in the excitement of our pilot season at Page Hall in Albany. SUBSCRIBE NOW to great plays... tastefully produced. Let's get together and warm up those cold winter nights!

See you at the show.

1980 - 81 SEASON

James Goodwin Rice and Deborah Hedwall in Joe Egg LCT 1980

JOE EGG by Peter Nichols December 3 - 21, 1980

A wildly funny, deeply moving look at a marriage in trouble. "...Brilliantly vibrant performances..." (Dan DiNicola, Schenectady Gazette), "...great humor and compassion..." (Martin P. Kelly, Times Union) describe the Lexington Conservatory Theatre production, which we are proudly moving to Capital Rep to open our first season.

SORROWS OF STEPHEN by Peter Parnell January 21 - February 8, 1981

This delightful urban romance, set in New York City's East Side, was acclaimed by Mel Gussow of The New York Times as "a real romantic comedy, sophisticated, sentimental, with an ageless attitude towards the power of positive love."

THE HOSTAGE by Brendan Behan February 18 - March 8, 1981

Laughter, love, tears and a colorful cast of characters surround a young IRA hostage in this Guinness-soaked evening of song, dance and storytelling fun-by that rascal of Irish theatre, Brendan Behan, whom Walter Kerr called "...an astonishing man of the theatre."

Program subject to change without notice.

"...Ablaze with theatrical vitality..."

Jeffrey Borak, Poughkeepsie Journal
